

Jim Tyler

I'm married and have two daughters. My older daughter attends SSU and my younger daughter is starting at Chico State this August. I attended Cal State Los Angeles for 2 years on a baseball scholarship, but injured my pitching arm, ending my baseball aspirations. I then transferred to Humboldt State University where I graduated with a degree in marine biology and a second degree in zoology. After graduating I moved in with my sister down in San Diego and landed a job with San Diego County as an Environmental Health Specialist (aka, Health Inspector) in Land Use (i.e., Well and Septic). I worked for San Diego County for almost 10 years and then relocated to Sonoma County. I worked for Sonoma County for 24.5 years (17.5 years in Environmental Health and 7 years in Permit Sonoma Well and Septic), and retired last August at age 58. I enjoy traveling, golf and pretty much any sport, hiking, painting and other art, beer sampling, eating good food (especially Asian foods), swimming/snorkeling/body-surfing, reading, crossword puzzles, and chilling in general. I grew up Hawaiian-style, as my father was born and raised in Hilo, Hawaii, but I grew up in Glendale, California, hence the reason I am a Dodgers fan (my house was 7 miles from Dodger Stadium, but who's counting).
