

Tim Senkir

I was born in San Francisco in 1954. I participated in football and swimming in high school in Daly City. Joined the Army and was stationed in Germany from 1973-1976. Worked for the Daly City Police Department from 1978-1981 before moving to Santa Rosa.

Graduated from Sonoma State University with a degree in Business Management and an MA in Organizational Development.

Retired from Santa Rosa PD in 2004 as a lieutenant. Held a variety of assignments during my career, including Training Officer, SWAT Team member, Motor Officer, Accident Investigator, Detective, Supervisor, and Manager.

Worked as a consultant for Bay Area police departments and as an instructor for training courses throughout California until 2016. My wife, Lona, and I have thirteen great-grandchildren ranging in age from 4 months to 18 years old. We like to travel. We have a trip planned to Egypt in January and a trip to Uzbekistan in September. I have been to all seven continents and more than 65 countries. I enjoy playing golf, kayaking, and attending local music concerts.
